

National Post sets the record straight; Yank Barry is vindicated after more than three years

National Post apologizes to Yank Barry

(Global Village Champions Foundation)/ January 9, 2017 / Toronto,ON

After over three years of battling against and withstanding the repercussions from a National Post article questioning Yank Barry's character, career and philanthropic efforts, the Post has set the record straight following a lengthy dispute and tumultuous litigation. An April 12, 2012 National Post article suggested Mr. Barry's global humanitarian works were embellished, in addition to questioning his music career which includes his time as the lead singer of The Kingsmen. Mr. Barry's foundation and team have vigorously disputed these allegations.

On January 6, 2017, in publications at its website home page and its print edition, the Post expressly acknowledged that Yank Barry has engaged in extensive philanthropic work, prior to and since the date of the 2012 Post article; that he has been repeatedly nominated for the Nobel Prize for his charitable work; and that he was a member of The Kingsmen from 1968 to 1969 and from 2013 to date. The Post stated that it regretted any contrary interpretations of the 2012 article.

"I am pleased that the National Post has set the record straight," Mr. Barry said. Mr. Barry said he will continue to use his time and talent investing in causes that benefit those in need.

CANADA

TRENDING Queen Elizabeth II | Internet Nostalgia | Real estate | Trump | Best books of 2016 | Lotto Max

National Post clarification: Yank Barry

Edit post

NATIONAL POST | January 6, 2017 | Last Updated: Jan 6 6:00 AM ET
More from National Post

Republish Reprint

Yank Barry Rod MacIvor for National Post

Like Share 0 Twitter Google+ Reddit Email Typo? More

Clarification – Yank Barry: On April 15, 2012, the National Post published an article about Mr. Yank Barry entitled “The world according to Yank: Montrealer with checkered past gets Nobel nod, or does he?”

The National Post acknowledges that Mr. Barry has engaged in extensive philanthropic work and has continued to do so since the date of the article; that he has repeatedly been nominated for a Nobel Prize for his philanthropic work since the date of the article; and that subsequent to the article, the Kingsmen website has been revised to acknowledge him as lead singer of the Kingsmen while original members were on sabbatical from 1968 to 1969, and that he has been a member from 2013 to date. The National Post does not suggest, and did not intend to suggest, that Mr. Barry did not have significant philanthropic and career accomplishments. The National Post regrets any contrary interpretation of our article that may have been made.

LATEST CANADA VIDEOS

The opera singer

Coal power phase-out key to 'clean economy future': Minister

Major fire erupts in Montreal's Chinatown

Premier Wynne responds to Sudbury charges

Find National Post on Facebook

2017 GMC SIERRA 1500 LEASE A DOUBLE CAB ELEVATION 4WD FROM $199 @ 0.9% BI-WEEKLY LEASE RATE FOR 24 MONTHS WITH $2,000 DOWN, INCLUDES FREIGHT AND PDI. INCLUDES $1,600 TRADE-IN BONUS! JAN 4 - JAN 31 LEARN MORE

Canada Videos

Email Alerts

Get the latest news in your inbox as it happens.

SIGN UP

Post Picks

Heartbreak for Team Canada as U.S. works overtime to capture world junior hockey gold in shootout

The win followed three periods of back-and-forth hockey and an overtime that might have been the single most entertaining 20 minutes of scoreless hockey imaginable

Thomas Chabot shines on the big stage leading Team Canada to a silver medal at world juniors

With 10 points in seven games, Chabot has been Canada's best player — if not the tournament's best — and it had not gone unnoticed by his future boss

Brad Pitt is 'terrified the public will learn the truth,' Angelina Jolie says upon sealing divorce proceedings

The pair split last fall and since then rumours have swirled as to why and whether it has to do with Pitt's alleged drug and

The National Post apologizes to Mr. Barry to set the record straight:

January 5, 2017

Mr. Yank Barry
c/o Faskens (Att'n Peter Downard)
333 Bay St, #2400
Toronto ON, M5H 2T6

Dear Mr. Barry:

On April 15, 2012, the National Post published an article about you entitled "The world according to Yank: Montrealer with checkered past gets Nobel nod, or does he?"

The National Post acknowledges that you have engaged in extensive philanthropic work and have continued to do so since the date of the article; that you have repeatedly been nominated for a Nobel Prize for your philanthropic work since the date of the article; and that subsequent to the article, the Kingsmen website has been revised to acknowledge you as lead singer of the Kingsmen while original members were on sabbatical from 1968 to 1969, and that you have been a member from 2013 to date. The National Post does not suggest, and did not intend to suggest, that you do not have significant philanthropic and career accomplishments. The National Post regrets any contrary interpretation of our article that may have been made.

Yours Truly,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Anne Marie Owens".

Anne Marie Owens
Editor-in-Chief
National Post

365 Bloor St. East, 3rd Floor
Toronto, ON, M4W 3L4
Tel: 416.383.2364 E-mail: aowens@postmedia.com
nationalpost.com

The logo for the National Post, with the words "NATIONAL POST" in a bold, black, serif font. A small crown icon is positioned between the words "NATIONAL" and "POST".

About Global Village Champions Foundation: Started in 1995 by Yank Barry and co-founder Muhammad Ali, Global Village Champions Foundation strives to become the undisputed world leader in private, humanitarian delivery of nutrition to needy persons across the globe, while sustaining human life and helping to eradicate hunger from the face of the Earth. With the help of donors and notable figures such as Gary US Bonds, and Evander Holyfield, the nonprofit has provided more than 1 billion meals to the hungry around the world. The charity's mission also includes rescuing refugees who fled to Bulgaria. Mr. Barry's philanthropic work has been recognized by many well-known foundations as well as major media outlets worldwide, including being a three-time Nobel Peace Prize nominee.

MEDIA CONTACT: For Global Village Champions Foundation: Audra McMurray Global Village Champions Foundation - Director of Marketing and Communications Cell: (941) 524-1484 Email: audra@globalvillagechampions.org